His prime of youth as well as education was started with the ancient education system or guru-shishya-parampara. At that stage of life, he started the learnings of Vedas and Vyakarana. Then he was the student of TOL in the then Government Sanskrit College, Kolkata. Harinarayan Vedatirtha was then teacher. His further studies were in The Asiatic Society. At first, he was awarded Shastri in Navya Nyaya Darsana and then Acharya in Advaita Vedanta with first class. Here he gained the essence of the Indian Philosophy and Culture from the then stalwarts- Acharya Panchanan Shastri, Narmada Tarkatirtha, Mahamahopadhyay Anantalal Thakur, Mahamahopadhyay Sitanath Goswami et al. At the time, he got the fortune to be the "antevasin" of Panchanan Shastri and Mahamahopadhyay Dinanath Tripathi (Dandisvami Damodar Ashram). Then he fully concentrated in Indian Philosophy through the system of Traditional Oriental Learning. And as well as he stood first in M.A. from the faculty of Arts and commerce of the University of Burdwan. He was also awarded Gold Medal from the university. Besides this, he got Satyacharan Maitra Medal, Dr. Panchanan Roy & Late S.K. Roy Scholarship, and H. H. Sankaracharya Swami Swanandashram Scholarship from the university of Burdwan in 1990. Then he started his journey as Swami Vivekananda research fellow in The Asiatic Society in 1992. He was awarded Ph.D. in Sanskrit for the thesis "Astikadarshaneshu Dharmasvarupasamikshanam" from the university of Burdwan in 1997. Sanskrit College, Kolkata is his longtime workplace. He served Rabindra Bharati University over seventeen years. Besides this, he served the University of Calcutta. His publications are connected to several universities and academic bodies. Delivered many honorary speech or endowment lectures. His first publication is in the magazine "Desh" in 1994. Till now, his number of books is 13 and the number of research article is more than 100.
